

The world's smallest moving-image gallery

The ArtReach Nanoplex is an experimental moving-image gallery housed within a family caravan. Our state of the art, surround sound projection room creates a truly unique and immersive experience, providing up to ten viewers with an exclusive insight into the world of digital arts.

The Nanoplex is ideally suited for festivals and events across the UK. Whether you are looking to showcase your own short films, or chose a programme from ArtReach's cutting edge collection, this quirky and unusual gallery offers audiences an unforgettable experience.

ArtReach offer a variety of packages to suit a range of budgets, so why not get in touch to find out more?

For more information about the Nanoplex and to discuss hiring options, please contact ArtReach on 0116 261 6882 or hannah@artreach.biz
